

George Washington President of the UNITED STATES of America.

To all to whom these Presents shall come, Greeting:

Whereas a Treaty between the United States of America and the Oneida, Tuscorora and Stockbridge Indians dwelling in the Country of the Oneidas was made and concluded on the second day of December last, by Timothy Pickens, the Agent of the United States for that purpose appointed, on one part, and the Chiefs of those Indian Nations residing in the Country of the Oneidas on the other part, which Treaty is in the form and words following:

XXXXXX

Treaty between the United States and the Oneida, Tuscorora
Stockbridge Indians, dwelling in the Country of the Oneidas - Decr 2. 1794.

A Treaty between the United States and the Oneida, Tuscorora and Stockbridge Indians, dwelling in the country of the Oneidas.

Whereas in the late war between Great Britain and the United States of America, a body of the Oneida and Tuscorora and the Stockbridge Indians, adhered faithfully to the United States, and assisted them with their persons, and in consequence of this adherence and assistance, the Oneidas & Tuscororas, at an unfortunate period of the war, were driven from their homes, and their houses were burnt and their property destroyed: And as the United States in the time of their distress, acknowledged their obligations to these faithful friends, and promised to reward them: and the United States being now in a condition to fulfil the promises then made: the following articles are stipulated by the respective parties for that purpose, to be in force when ratified by the President and Senate.

Article I. The United States will pay the sum of Five Hundred Dollars, to be distributed among individuals of the Oneida and Tuscorora nations, as a compensation for their individual losses and services during the late war between Great Britain and the United States. - The only man of the Kaughnawaugus now remaining in the Oneida country, as well as some few very meritorious persons of the Stockbridge Indians, will be considered in the distribution.

Article II. For the general accommodation of the Indian nations residing in the Country of the Oneidas, the United States will cause to be erected a complete grist-mill and saw-mill, in a situation to serve the present principal settlements of these nations. Or if such one convenient situation cannot be found, then the United States will cause to be erected two such grist-mills & saw-mills, in places where it is now known the proposed accommodation may be effected. Of this the United States will judge.

Article

Now know ye, that I having seen and considered the said Treaty, do by and with the advice and consent of the Senate of the United States, Accept, Ratify and Confirm the same, and every article and clause thereof: In Testimony whereof, I have caused the Seal of the United States to be hereunto affixed and signed the same with my hand.

Given in the City of Philadelphia the twenty first day of January in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and ninety five, and in the Nineteenth year of the Sovereignty and Independence of the United States.

George Washington President of the UNITED STATES of America.

To all to whom these Presents shall come, Greeting:

Whereas a Treaty between the United States of America and the Oneida, Tuscorora and Stockbridge Indians dwelling in the Country of the Oneidas was made and concluded on the second day of December last by Timothy Pickering, the Agent of the United States for that purpose appointed, on one part, and the Chiefs of those Indian Nations residing in the Country of the Oneidas on the other part, which Treaty is in the form and words following:

Article III. The United States will provide, during three years after the mills shall be completed, for the expense of employing one or two suitable persons to manage the mills, to keep them in repair, to instruct some young men of the three nations in the arts of the miller and fanner, and to provide teams & utensils for carrying on the work of the mills.

Article IV. The United States will pay One Thousand Dollars to be applied in building a convenient Church at Oneida, in the place of the one which was there burnt by the enemy, in the late war.

Article V. In consideration of the above stipulations to be performed on the part of the United States, the Oneida, Tuscorora and Stockbridge Indians afore mentioned, now acknowledge themselves satisfied, and relinquish all other claims of compensation and reward for their losses and services in the late war. Excepting only the unsatisfied claims of such men of the said nations as bore commissions under the United States, for any arrears which may be due to them as officers.

In witness whereof the Chiefs of those nations residing in the country of the Oneidas, and Timothy Pickering Agent for the United States, have hereto set their hands & seals at Oneida the second day of December, in the year one thousand seven hundred and ninety ninety four.
